ANGUILLA

MINIMAL ADVANCEMENT

In 2017, Anguilla made a minimal advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. After two category five hurricanes impacted Anguilla, the Ministries of Health, Education, and Human Development, in cooperation with UNICEF, worked together to provide recovery assistance to children. In addition, the Minister of Labor from Anguilla attended the 10th ILO Meeting of Caribbean Ministers of Labor: Realizing Decent Work Under the 2030 Agenda, where there were discussions about a regional initiative to eliminate child labor in the Caribbean. Research found no evidence that child labor exists in Anguilla. However, the law does not prohibit the involvement of children in illicit activities and the minimum age for work does not meet international standards.

BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS

MINIMAL ADVANCEMENT

In 2017, the British Virgin Islands made a minimal advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. After two category five hurricanes impacted the British Virgin Islands, the Ministry of Education and UNICEF worked together to reopen schools and provide recovery assistance to children. In addition, the Minister of Labor from the British Virgin Islands attended the 10th ILO Meeting of Caribbean Ministers of Labor: Realizing Decent Work Under the 2030 Agenda, where there were discussions about a regional initiative to eliminate child labor in the Caribbean. Research found no evidence that child labor exists in the British Virgin Islands. However, the law does not prohibit the involvement of children in illicit activities, and the minimum age for recruitment by non-state armed groups does not meet international standards.

FALKLAND ISLANDS (ISLAS MALVINAS)

NO ADVANCEMENT

In 2017, the Falkland Islands made no advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. Research found no evidence that child labor, including its worst forms, exists in the Falkland Islands. However, the minimum age for work and hazardous work do not meet international standards. The law also does not prohibit the involvement of children in illicit activities.

MONTSERRAT

NO ADVANCEMENT

In 2017, Montserrat made no advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. Research found no evidence that child labor, including its worst forms, exists in Montserrat. However, the law does not prohibit the involvement of children in illicit activities, and the minimum age for recruitment by non-state armed groups does not meet international standards.

SAINT HELENA, ASCENSIÓN, AND TRISTÁN DA CUNHA (FORMERLY SAINT HELENA)

NO ADVANCEMENT

In 2017, Saint Helena, Ascensión, and Tristán da Cunha (formerly Saint Helena) made no advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. Research found no evidence that child labor, including its worst forms, exists in Saint Helena, Ascensión, and Tristán da Cunha. However, there is not a minimum age for work and the law does not prohibit the involvement of children in illicit activities. Gaps also remain in legislation related to forced child labor and the trafficking of children for labor exploitation.

Overseas Territories of the United Kingdom

I. PREVALENCE AND SECTORAL DISTRIBUTION OF CHILD LABOR

ANGUILLA, BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS, FALKLAND ISLANDS, MONTSERRAT, AND SAINT HELENA, ASCENSIÓN, AND TRISTÁN DA CUNHA

Research found no evidence that child labor exists in Anguilla (A), the British Virgin Islands (BVI), the Falkland Islands (FI), Montserrat (M), and Saint Helena, Ascensión, and Tristán da Cunha (SH). (1; 2; 3; 4)

Table 1 provides one key indicator on children's education in the BVI and M, the only Overseas Territories (OTs) of the United Kingdom for which information is available. Data on other key indicators for the UK OTs are not available from the sources used in this report.

II. LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR CHILD LABOR

British Overseas Territories recognize the jurisdiction and sovereignty of the United Kingdom, but they are constitutionally not part of the UK. They are self-governing, except in the areas of foreign affairs and defense. (7) Domestic UK law does not generally apply unless explicitly extended in Anguilla, the British Virgin Islands, and Montserrat. The Falkland Islands and Saint Helena, Ascensión, and Tristán da Cunha generally incorporate English Law Ordinances to the extent permitted by local circumstances and subject to modification by local laws. (3) Under Article 35(4) of the ILO Constitution, when the UK ratifies a Convention, the Territory must consider if it will accept the Convention. If the Convention is accepted, it is considered applicable to that territory. (3; 7) The following conventions have been extended to the Overseas Territories of the UK (Table 2).

Table 2. Ratification of International Conventions on Child Labor

Convention	Ratifications
	A	BVI	FI	M	SH
 ILO C. 138, Minimum Age

 UN CRC	✓	✓	✓		✓
UN CRC Optional Protocol on Armed Conflict
UN CRC Optional Protocol on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Child Pornography
 Palermo Protocol on Trafficking in Persons

The Governments of the Overseas Territories of the UK have established laws and regulations related to child labor (Table 3). However, gaps exist in their legal frameworks to adequately protect children from child labor, including prohibition of using children in illicit activities.

The minimum work age of 12 does not meet international standards. There is also a minimum work age of 14, but it only applies to industrial undertakings, transportation of passengers or goods by roads or rail, and work on ships. (8; 9) Moreover, the minimum age of 14 for hazardous work does not meet international standards. However, there is a prohibition of night work for children under age 16 in manufacturing of raw sugar, and a prohibition of night work in other industrial undertakings for children under 18. (8) Additionally, Anguilla does not prohibit the use of children in illicit activities, including the production and trafficking of drugs. (10; 14; 15) The law does not criminally prohibit the recruitment of children by non-state armed groups. (10)

In the British Virgin Islands, the Labor Code specifies that hazardous work is to be defined by the Minister of Labor, but the Minister of Labor has not defined hazardous work for children. (3; 4) In addition, the minimum age of 14 for light work is not in compliance with international standards. The law does not criminally prohibit the recruitment of children by non-state armed groups. (18)

The minimum age of 14 for work is not in compliance with international standards. (22) The minimum age of 16 for hazardous work is not in compliance with international standards. (22; 23)

The law does not prohibit adults from using, procuring, and offering a child in the production and trafficking of drugs in the Falkland Islands. Although child trafficking has not been identified as a problem, the law does not criminalize trafficking children for labor exploitation. (28; 25; 24) Also, the law does not criminally prohibit the recruitment of children by non-state armed groups.

Children under age 18 may not be employed at night, or in occupations designated as hazardous. (29) The Minister of Labor for Montserrat is entrusted with the responsibility of deciding what constitutes hazardous work but Montserrat has not determined by national law or regulation the types of hazardous work prohibited for children. (29) The law does not criminally prohibit the recruitment of children by non-state armed groups. The law does not criminally prohibit the use of children in illicit activities. (27)

Overseas Territories of the United Kingdom

Saint Helena, Ascensión, and Tristán da Cunha (STATC) have not determined by national law or regulation the types of work prohibited to children, other than work on vessels engaged in maritime navigation. (34) The laws prohibiting forced labor in STATC are not sufficient as debt bondage and slavery are prohibited constitutionally, but not criminally. (35) While the UK Sexual Offences Act, which is applicable to this territory, prohibits trafficking for sexual exploitation, there are no laws prohibiting the trafficking of children for labor exploitation. (39) The law also does not criminally prohibit the recruitment of children by non-state armed groups.

III. ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS ON CHILD LABOR

As there is no evidence of a problem, there appears to be no need for enforcement actions to address child labor. However, in Anguilla, the British Virgin Islands, the Falkland Islands, and Montserrat, the UK government has established an institutional mechanism for the enforcement of labor laws. (Table 4).

Table 4. Agencies Responsible for Child Labor Law Enforcement

ANGUILLA
Organization/Agency	Role
Department of Labor of the Ministry of Finance, Economic Development, Investments, and Tourism	Enforce child labor laws through the Labor Commissioner, pursuant to the Employment of Children (Restriction) Act. (40)
Department of Social Development of the Ministry of Social Development	Safeguard the well-being of children and investigate reports of child abuse. (41; 42)
Royal Anguilla Police Force	Investigate child protection cases. (41; 42)
BRITISH VIRGIN ISLANDS
Organization/Agency	Role
Ministry of Labor	Enforce labor laws and collect data and statistics on violations of the Labor Code. (16)
FALKLAND ISLANDS
Organization/Agency	Role
Royal Falkland Islands Police	Enforce laws protecting children against abuses, including sexual abuses. (43)
MONTSERRAT
Organization/Agency	Role
Department of Labor	Prohibit employment of children, pursuant to the Labor Code of 2012, under the Labor Commissioner. (44; 40)
Royal Montserrat Police Service	Enforce laws involving children outside of the labor law. (40)
Department of Social Services	Employ social workers to work on child protection issues. (40)

IV. COORDINATION OF GOVERNMENT EFFORTS ON CHILD LABOR

As there is no evidence of a problem, there appears no need for mechanisms to coordinate efforts to address child labor. However, the Governments of Anguilla and the Falkland Islands have established mechanisms to coordinate their efforts to address child labor (Table 5).

Table 5. Key Mechanisms to Coordinate Government Efforts on Child Labor

ANGUILLA
Coordinating Body	Role and Description
Ministry of Social Development	Implement child protection efforts and ensure that Anguilla complies with the CRC. (45)
FALKLAND ISLANDS
Coordinating Body	Role and Description
Falkland Islands Safeguarding Children Board	Ensure children's welfare, including protection from sexual abuses. Chaired by the Director of Health and Social Services, members include the Education Department, the Attorney General's Chambers, Social Services, Royal Falkland Islands Police, healthcare professionals, members of the Legislative Assembly, and a representative from the military community. (46)

Overseas Territories of the United Kingdom

V. GOVERNMENT POLICIES ON CHILD LABOR

As there is no evidence of a problem, there appears to be no need for policies to address child labor. However, the Government of Anguilla has established the Child Protection National Action Plan, Safeguarding and Child Protection Protocols and Procedures, and an Inter-Agency Child Protection Protocol. All of these policies may contribute to the prevention of child labor. (47; 48; 45; 41; 42; 49; 50; 51)

During the reporting period, the ministers of labor from Anguilla and the British Virgin Islands attended the 10th ILO Meeting of Caribbean Ministers of Labor: Realizing Decent Work Under the 2030 Agenda, where they discussed and participated in a regional initiative to eliminate child labor in the Caribbean. (52; 53)

VI. SOCIAL PROGRAMS TO ADDRESS CHILD LABOR

As there is no evidence of a problem, there appears to be no need for programs to address child labor. However, the Government of Anguilla established the Safeguarding Children in Anguilla Project and Child Safeguarding in the Overseas Territories Regional Project that may contribute to the prevention of child labor. (45; 54; 55; 56) In addition, the Government of the British Virgin Islands has established child protection programs promoting children's rights, which may contribute to the prevention of child labor. (2; 40)

In 2017, two category five hurricanes impacted Anguilla and the British Virgin Islands, and had minor impacts on Montserrat. (4) During this time, all education services were temporarily disrupted. (4) When schools reopened after the hurricanes in Anguilla, the Ministries of Health, Education, and Human Development, in cooperation with UNICEF, supported children who experienced emotional trauma. (57; 58; 40) Likewise, the Ministry of Education and UNICEF worked together to reopen schools through recovery assistance in the British Virgin Islands. (58; 40)

VII. SUGGESTED GOVERNMENT ACTIONS TO PREVENT CHILD LABOR

Based on the reporting above, suggested actions are identified that would advance the continued prevention of child labor in Anguilla, the British Virgin Islands, the Falkland Islands, Montserrat, and Saint Helena, Ascension, and Tristan da Cunha (Table 6).
