

In 2017, Tonga made no advancement in efforts to eliminate the worst forms of child labor. Children in Tonga perform dangerous tasks in agriculture and fishing. Gaps in the legal framework remain; the country has no laws specifying a minimum age for work or defining hazardous forms of work for children under age 18, leaving children unprotected from labor exploitation. In addition, the government has not established a policy or program to address child labor, including its worst forms.

I. PREVALENCE AND SECTORAL DISTRIBUTION OF CHILD LABOR

Children in Tonga perform dangerous tasks in agriculture and fishing. (1) Table 1 provides key indicators on children's work and education in Tonga. Data on some of these indicators are not available from the sources used in this report.

Table 1. Statistics on Children's Work and Education

Children	Age	Percent
Working (% and population)	5 to 14	Unavailable
Attending School (%)	5 to 14	Unavailable
Combining Work and School (%)	7 to 14	Unavailable
Primary Completion Rate (%)		111.0

Source for primary completion rate: Data from 2013, published by UNESCO Institute for Statistics, 2018. (2) Data were unavailable from Understanding Children's Work Project's analysis, 2018. (3)

Based on a review of available information, Table 2 provides an overview of children's work by sector and activity.

Table 2. Overview of Children's Work by Sector and Activity

Sector/Industry	Activity
Agriculture	Subsistence farming, fishing (1)
Categorical Worst Forms of Child Labor‡	Commercial sexual exploitation, sometimes as a result of human trafficking (4) Forced domestic work (4)

‡ Child labor understood as the worst forms of child labor per se under Article 3(a)–(c) of ILO C. 182.

II. LEGAL FRAMEWORK FOR CHILD LABOR

Tonga has ratified 1 key international convention concerning child labor (Table 3).

Table 3. Ratification of International Conventions on Child Labor

Convention	Ratification
 ILO C. 138, Minimum Age
 ILO C. 182, Worst Forms of Child Labor
 UN CRC	✓
 UN CRC Optional Protocol on Armed Conflict
 UN CRC Optional Protocol on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Child Pornography
 Palermo Protocol on Trafficking in Persons

The government has established laws and regulations related to child labor (Table 4). However, gaps exist in Tonga's legal framework to adequately protect children from the worst forms of child labor, including the minimum age for work.

Table 4. Laws and Regulations on Child Labor

Standard	Meets International Standards: Yes/No	Age	Legislation
Minimum Age for Work	No
Minimum Age for Hazardous Work	No

The Parliament has yet to pass the Employment Relations Bill, which would establish a minimum age for non-hazardous and hazardous work and would prohibit the categorical worst forms of child labor. In addition, the Parliament has not determined the types of hazardous work prohibited for children. (9; 10; 1)

The Counter Terrorism and Transnational Organised Crime Act is insufficient to meet the international standard for the prohibition of child trafficking because it does not specifically prohibit trafficking children domestically, nor does it criminally prohibit forced labor, debt bondage, and slavery, unless they involve transnational human trafficking. (4; 5)

The Criminal Offences Act prohibits the procurement of women and girls under age 21 for prostitution but does not criminalize the procurement of boys for prostitution. (11) In addition, the Act does not sufficiently prohibit commercial sexual exploitation, because the use of children under age 14 in the production of pornography is not criminally prohibited. The Act also does not specifically prohibit using children in illicit activities, particularly in the production and trafficking of drugs. (6; 11; 12) In addition, the Defence Services Act does not prohibit the recruitment of children by non-state armed groups. (7)

Although it does not appear that there are any laws that provide free basic education, there is a policy that sufficiently provides for free basic education to all children between the ages of 6 and 14. (13)

III. ENFORCEMENT OF LAWS ON CHILD LABOR

The government has established institutional mechanisms for the enforcement of laws and regulations on child labor (Table 5). However, gaps exist within the operations of the Ministry of Commerce, Consumer, Innovation, Trade and Labour that may hinder adequate enforcement of their labor laws.

Table 5. Agencies Responsible for Child Labor Law Enforcement

Organization/Agency	Role
Ministry of Commerce, Consumer, Innovation, Trade and Labour	Enforce labor laws, including those related to child labor and the worst forms of child labor, through business license inspectors and a chief labor inspector. The position of Chief Labor Inspector is currently vacant. (1)

Organization/Agency	Role
Tongan Police, Transnational Crime Unit, and Domestic Violence Unit	Enforce criminal laws related to the worst forms of child labor. (1)
Ministry of Internal Affairs, Immigration Department	Collaborate with Tongan police and the Ministry of Commerce, Consumer, Innovation, Trade and Labour on the enforcement of criminal laws in cases in which foreign nationals are involved in the worst forms of child labor. (1)

Labor Law Enforcement

In 2017, labor law enforcement agencies in Tonga took actions to combat child labor (Table 6). However, gaps exist within the operations of the Ministry of Commerce, Consumer, Innovation, Trade and Labour that may hinder adequate labor law enforcement, including the absence of worksite inspections conducted at the national level.

Inadequate resources, including a lack of funding to hire and train the labor inspectors needed to target sectors in which child labor is present, hamper the government's capacity to enforce child labor laws in Tonga. (15; 1)

Criminal Law Enforcement

Research did not find information on whether criminal law enforcement agencies in Tonga took actions to combat child labor (Table 7).

IV. COORDINATION OF GOVERNMENT EFFORTS ON CHILD LABOR

Research found no evidence that the government has established mechanisms to coordinate its efforts to address child labor.

V. GOVERNMENT POLICIES ON CHILD LABOR

Research found no evidence that the government has established policies to address child labor.

VI. SOCIAL PROGRAMS TO ADDRESS CHILD LABOR

Research found no evidence that the government funded or participated in programs that include the goal of eliminating or preventing child labor.

VII. SUGGESTED GOVERNMENT ACTIONS TO ELIMINATE CHILD LABOR

Based on the reporting above, suggested actions are identified that would advance the elimination of child labor in Tonga (Table 8).

Table 8. Suggested Government Actions to Eliminate Child Labor

Area	Suggested Action	Year(s) Suggested
Legal Framework	Ratify ILO C. 138, Minimum Age, ILO C. 182, Worst Forms of Child Labor, UN CRC Optional Protocol on Armed Conflict, UN CRC Optional Protocol on the Sale of Children, Child Prostitution and Child Pornography, and the Palermo Protocol	2017
	Establish labor regulations that include a minimum age of 14 for employment and a minimum age of 18 for hazardous work, in accordance with international standards.	2009 – 2017
	Ensure that hazardous occupations or activities are prohibited for children.	2009 – 2017
